None.

5. DELIVERY SCHEDULE:

The entire quantity of crystals will be delivered concurrently with the associated 14 channel receiving systems.

6. REMARKS:

This procurement of crystals is necessary due to the inability of the Commo laboratory to produce the crystals. It was originally intended to have the laboratory produce the crystals but due to the nature of the crystals finally employed in the equipment the decision was made that the laboratory is not set up to produce the same. Technical considerations dictate the use of this particular type of crystal.
